

14th India International Hotel Travel & Tourism Research Conference-2024 Tourism & Hospitality: Climate Change, Geopolitical Conflicts & Crisis Management March 6th – 7 th, 2024 (Hybrid Mode)

Dr. Vernika Agarwal, Associate Professor and Dr. Pooja Chaturvedi Sharma, Assistant Professor, Apeejay School of Management, New Delhi, jointly conducted a research workshop for the conference delegates and participants on 'Writing a Research Paper/Project for Young Researchers and Students'. The final year students of the Institute along with conference delegates and participant actively participated in the workshop. The workshop was aimed at enabling young researchers and students to confidently arrive at a well-rounded and meaningful research topic. Dr. Vernika Agarwal detailed the importance of choosing a specific and focused topic by keeping in mind the clarity and direction, relevance and impact, depth of analysis, and finally the engagement and interest. She emphasized on the importance of Brainstorming Techniques for Generating Topic Ideas through mind mapping, free writing and SWOT analysis. She introduced the students to Google Scholar and how to access and navigate through SCOPUS. She concluded by stating that choosing a research topic is a crucial step in academic growth, requiring thorough evaluation and consideration. Continuing the research workshop, Dr. Pooja Chaturvedi Sharma, elaborated on the questionnaire design and data collection tools. She emphasized specifically on the importance of Questionnaire framing activity, Measurement Scales, Identification and Comparison of different scales, Validity of the scale, Sampling design, concept and types and methods of data collection. Further, she elaborated on enhancing the response rate for the questionnaires and designing it from the research hypotheses
